

The Department for Education has published a child-friendly version of Working Together to Safeguard Children, including a downloadable booklet and animation to help young people understand safeguarding processes.

The guide, titled A Guide to Safeguarding for Children and Young People, explains how professionals like social workers, teachers, doctors, and police collaborate to keep children safe. It encourages children to speak up and reassures them that help is available. This guide responds to calls for greater inclusion of children's voices in safeguarding.

Year One

This week, we had a wonderful performance from the Great Fire of London theatre group! The children got to dress up as lots of different historical figures as well as reenact the fire itself.

Rutherford class Art in the Park

Last Friday afternoon, it was the turn of Rutherford Class to visit Campbell Park. The children had a lot of fun looking at the sculptures, observing the wonder of nature and even playing a game or two. A massive thank you to Florrie and Laura at The Parks Trust for looking after us all so well!

Well done Rafael!

Learning Behaviours

At Caroline Haslett Primary School, we have 8 characters that help us remember the skills of an effective learner in all of our lessons.

The character for after half term will be Eric the Enjoy Learning Elephant. Encourage your child to practise the skills listed below and be like Eric.

I feel proud of all my achievements.
I feel my neurons connecting.
I imagine my intelligence growing by the minute!
I use what I have learnt in real life.
I know I can do it if I have input and I practice

★ Enjoy Learning ★

Hi I'm Eric the 'enjoy learning' elephant.

I feel proud of all my achievements.
I feel my neurons connecting.
I imagine my intelligence growing by the minute!
I use what I have learnt in real life.
I know I can do it if I have input and I practise.

Mr. Quinton's chocolate cake has been found!

Year 3 pupils were challenged to solve a mystery by reading, sending, and replying to emails, as well as opening attachments such as audio files, spreadsheets and PDFs. Along the way, they learned about the key features of email addresses, including the local part, the @ symbol, and the domain. Using witness statements, the young detectives were able to uncover the location of the missing cake. Mr Quinton was delighted to be reunited with it!

Good afternoon

I am sorry that i have not solve the case yet.we had some clues from Mrs Copper she said the suspect has brown hair and has a light jacket. I have a feeling it is Miss Sprosen because she told us she loves chocolate cake 🍰 and she has brown hair.Please can you send the fact file to me because Mrs Hart lost it.Here is a chocolate cake to make you happy.

World Cultural Diversity Day

On Wednesday, we celebrated World Cultural Diversity Day in style, and the children had a fantastic day. We were bursting with colour, pride, and joy as children arrived dressed in outfits that reflected their family's culture or heritage. I was truly blown away by the incredible effort that went into the clothing choices and how confidently and proudly each child shared their background with others. Throughout the day, pupils had the opportunity to explore different cultures by learning about a specific country and then rotated around the school to discover the amazing work completed by their peers. It was a wonderful celebration of the rich diversity in our school community and a reminder of how much we can learn from one another. We are already looking forward to next year's event where we are hoping to involve the wider school community - watch this space!

FOCHPS Charity

Did you know that the 'Friends of CHPS' is a registered charity? In order to achieve and maintain this status, we are required to raise 5 thousand pounds every financial year, and I am delighted to say that we have just this month, achieved that target with the profits from Movies and Munchies! Well done to all those involved behind the scenes for your hard work and efforts and thank you to all of our community, for the support and donations being made.
